Roberto and all,

How dismissive of you sir! The lack of concern or even consideration of ICANN transparency and openness seems to be a badge of honor with you at times, and far too often. I believe the need for open expression of disagreement, alternative or different views and or methods should be displayed on ICANN's web site! From your remark in response below, you obviously disagree. But I also believe the MOU was and remains clear that transparency and openness is a requirement.
