As a rural resident in Franklin county Missouri the only internet available to me is satellite. Well, there is dial up but I could never stay on line long enough to download their optimizer and would just have to stick to snail mail. I can't even get cell phone service where I'm located.

I belong to Crawford Electric Co-operative and read an article in their monthly magazine regarding fiber optic internet for those that have no access to Broadband internet and that definitely is me.

Crawford Electric Co-operative does put electricity first but, in my opinion, would be an excellent source for providing fiber optic internet to their rural customers. You may contact me at Diane Friend, [REDACTED], Sullivan, MO 63080, [REDACTED].
