

Here is one thing I suggest against botnets. Have a digital code assigned to emails. Similar code must be stored within server. Code gets changed daily. If code doesn't match auto delete. Not perfect but blind correspondence is where most hornets come from. Now how to obtain code must tag system for temp code