

From: monica2 [REDACTED]
To: iotrfc2016
Subject: IoT: "If-you-have-to-ask"... The answer is no...
Date: Wednesday, May 11, 2016 8:07:45 PM

* Now is not the time for IoT... It should be blindingly obvious from Nest throwing its tech down the toilet, to leaky Kids-toys, to Samsung/LG TV-Spying, to whatever tech is coming next to bite-us-in-the....

* Anyone for more Zeus-SpyEye Swift-Bangladesh style hacks against every single-online-system in the world? Past form proves, we're not good at balancing risks vs. economic rewards...

* We need to get our own house in order on just basic security alone... There was a related article recently about the White House studying the benefits of AI. That's laughable considering we can't even secure basic infrastructure, plants, utilities etc....

* Corporations treat users like Zuck-dumb-fks, never listening to feedback... Samsung etc live in a bubble, only looking to egos to create products that no one needs. Coming up with band-aid-apps that need to phone home constantly to get more band-aids...

* Enough already! But wait! Lets add government to the mix because that usually works, right?... Is anyone there going to listen, never mind understand the answers...???

* Screw IoT.. Screw Smart... Dumb is king!... I'm keeping my $$$ for hype-free things like world-travel or craft-beer....

mail2web.com ? What can On Demand Business Solutions do for you?
<http://link.mail2web.com/Business/SharePoint>